

A MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Maine is well known for its wealth of natural resources. Those of us who live and visit Maine recognize the value of Maine's waterways. Where else but Maine can you fish in over 6,000 lakes and ponds and 32,000 miles of rivers and streams for gamefish such as brook trout, landlocked salmon, and smallmouth bass.

Over 260,000 people fish in Maine each year, creating an economic impact of nearly $300 million annually. These anglers support over $100 million of wages and salaries, and generate nearly $200 million in retail sales. They also reel in nearly $20 million in tax revenue to the state.

Your fishing license dollars not only are a boon to the state's economy, but it is your license dollars that fund the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. These dollars are used to enhance fishing opportunities, raise and stock fish, protect habitat and ensure and create access to our waters. Your license dollars are an investment in Maine.

Thank you for purchasing a Maine fishing license this year, and investing in Maine's outdoor future.

John E. Baldacci
Governor

WARNING ABOUT EATING FRESHWATER FISH

Warning: Mercury in Maine freshwater fish may harm the babies of pregnant and nursing mothers, and young children.

SAFE EATING GUIDELINES

- Pregnant and nursing women, women who may get pregnant, and children under age 8 SHOULD NOT EAT any freshwater fish from Maine's inland waters. Except, for brook trout and landlocked salmon, 1 meal per month is safe.
- All other adults and children older than 8 CAN EAT 2 freshwater fish meals per month. For brook trout and landlocked salmon, the limit is 1 meal per week.

For more details, including warnings on striped bass, bluefish, and lobster tomalley call tollfree 866-292-3474 or visit our web site at <http://www.state.me.us/dhs/etp/>

It's hard to believe a fish that looks, smells, and tastes fine may not be safe to eat. But the truth is fish in Maine lakes, ponds, and rivers have mercury in them. Other states have this problem too. Mercury in the air settles into the waters. It then builds up in fish. For this reason, older fish have higher levels of mercury than younger fish. Fish (like pickerel and bass) that eat other fish have the highest mercury levels.

Small amounts of mercury can harm a brain starting to form or grow. That is why unborn and nursing babies, and young children are most at risk. Too much mercury can affect behavior and learning. Mercury can harm older children and adults, but it takes larger amounts. It may cause numbness in hands and feet or changes in vision. The Safe Eating Guidelines identify limits to protect everyone.

WARNING: Some Maine waters are polluted, requiring additional limits to eating fish.

Fish caught in some Maine waters have high levels of PCBs, Dioxins or DDT in them. These chemicals can cause cancer and other health effects. The Bureau of Health recommends additional fish consumption limits on the waters listed below. Remember to check the mercury guidelines. If the water you are fishing is listed below, check the mercury guideline above and follow the most limiting guidelines.

SAFE EATING GUIDELINES

Androscoggin River Gilead to Merrymeeting Bay: 6–12 fish meals a year.
Dennys River Meddybemps Lake to Dead Stream: 1–2 fish meals a month.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Determine the town and county of the body of water you will be fishing.

For streams, check the body of water the stream flows into.

If the body of water is listed, it will be followed by special regulations that apply. Otherwise, the General Laws on pages 9 – 11 apply.

Each revision of this publication is filed with the Secretary of State and, as a result, the rules herein have the force of law as printed.

Now Your Logbook Can Help Maine's Fisheries!

After another successful season, the MDIF&W has again partnered with TripTracks, Inc. to bring you the TripTracks Fishing Logbook. This private web-based service is free for Maine's anglers to record information about their fishing trips, upload photos and review summaries from around the state. The information provided will help the MDIF&W to better manage Maine's fisheries, by examining catch rates, angler use, and monitoring for introductions of illegal species. Visit www.triptracks.com and start Tracking your Trips this Spring!

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR KIDS!

"One of our most important responsibilities is to educate and inspire our youth with hands-on experiences that will aid them in a life long journey utilizing, conserving, and protecting Maine's natural resources"

— Emily Jones, Activities Coordinator, MDIF&W

Maine's freshwater fishery resource consists of nearly 6,000 lakes and ponds greater than one acre in size and over 32,000 miles of rivers and streams. People of ALL ages may fish in any of these waters that are open to fishing. However, certain waters, which we have chosen to call "Kids Waters," are governed by special regulations that give youngsters either exclusive or special access to the fishery. We have listed these waters below by county. To see what special regulations apply, go to the county listing and look for the body of water. They are listed alphabetically.

In other cases, the water is open to fishing for persons under 16 years of age only.

A MESSAGE FROM THE COMMISSIONER

Thank you for choosing to fish in Maine. With over 32,000 miles of rivers and streams, and more than 6,000 lakes and ponds in the state, I am sure that you will find a spot that will create many lasting memories.

Anglers in Maine now have more opportunity than ever. Every county in the state has extended fishing seasons, and on some bodies of water, you can fish, weather permitting, right through the end of December.

And this year, anglers will benefit greatly from our renovated hatcheries. Thanks to a voter approved $7 million bond in 2002, we recently reopened our Embden Hatchery, marking the culmination in an 18-month, $3.2 million complete renovation of the facility.

At full capacity, this hatchery can raise 100,000 pounds of any combination of brook trout, landlocked salmon, brown trout, lake trout, rainbow trout, and splake. Last year, the department stocked just over 300,000 pounds of fish. Embden will significantly increase the number of fish the department stocks throughout the state. The old Embden Hatchery raised approximately 25,000 pounds of fish a year. Anglers will soon start seeing more fish and bigger fish stocked throughout the state.

Please familiarize yourself with the general rules in this lawbook, and once you choose a spot to fish, check to see if there are any special regulations on that body of water.

We tailor laws to many individual waters, not only to preserve a resource, but also to enhance it. Some waters we manage for trophy size fish, while on another water, we may want to increase the number of fish an angler catches in a day. This department works together with anglers in hopes of improving fishing throughout the state. Over the past ten years, many anglers have told us that the fishing in Maine has improved. We want to make sure that we continue in that direction, but we do need your help.

While on the water, or perhaps at an access site, you may encounter a biologist or notice a survey box. Please take some time to give us feedback on the water you are fishing. Contact this department if you are interested in keeping a season long summary of your fishing trips. You can also go online and submit your data at www.triptracks.com. It is your comments that help guide the management of many of Maine's favorite fishing waters, so I hope you take the time to let us know what you have caught and how many hours you have spent enjoying Maine while fishing.

Enjoy your license. Maine is a wonderful state in which to spend time outdoors. I wish you many safe and enjoyable fishing trips this year. Thank you.

Roland D. Martin
Commissioner

A MESSAGE FROM THE COLONEL

Maine continues to expand its many wonderful fishing opportunities. Open water fishing season in Maine often starts when there is still snow on the ground and these days that's when it ends too. Our open water fishing seasons have expanded and now there is more opportunity than ever before.

Don't forget the kids! Bringing children fishing is a great way to have fun and spend time outdoors. The wholesome enjoyment and wonder kids get from simply going fishing is an experience all its own and may very well start a child on a life long interest in the great outdoors.

Maine's has some pristine waters with excellent fishing. Please be sure to do your part and help keep our waters protected from unwanted invasive fish and plants. The unauthorized introduction of fish and plants into Maine's waters is not only really harmful to the aquatic environment; it's also illegal.

If you have questions or need information about the waters or fishing laws and regulations in your area or the area you fish, please contact your local game warden – they will be glad to assist you. Likewise, please assist the men and women of the Warden Service by reporting all fishing violations.

Don't forget the Landowners when fishing season starts. Most of us think about private land and private property during hunting season when we actually hunt on land belonging to someone else. Remember that fishing also requires that we sometimes may enter private property to access the water. Always ask permission when entering onto the land of another person for accessing the waters for fishing.

Water Safety – Last But Not Least! With an early start to the season and the fishing season running through the fall on some waters brings exposure for Maine fishermen to some pretty cold waters. Please be sure to think safety on and around the water. If taking to a boat to troll for some Landlocked Salmon or other species after ice out, please wear a life jacket; and be extra careful wearing hip boots and chest waders too.

COLONEL THOMAS A. SANTAGUIDA
CHIEF, MAINE WARDEN SERVICE

PRESERVING FISH FOR TAXIDERMY

First, do not clean, gut or cut fish anywhere; next, plug anal vent with paper towel or tissue to keep digestive juice in the fish. After that, place fish carefully in a quality plastic bag (ziplock freezer bag or vacuum plastic bag as such), carefully protecting fins and tail, and cool fish as soon as possible until you can freeze it.

The last step is freezing the fish — you must remove all air from bag, either by filling bag with water or pushing all the air out by hand and then sealing it. Air causes freezer burn to fins and scales. Next, place the fish show side up (it's best side) and lay flat in freezer until frozen and call a taxidermist.

PREPARING FOR A CATCH-PHOTOGRAPH-AND-RELEASE CARVING

Plan ahead! Keep a soft tape measure and camera in your fishing gear. Take a few pictures of the fish to help record distinguishing characteristics and color. Measure the fish's length (from the center of the tail to the snout) all while handling the fish out of water as little as possible. Then follow the Tips for Catching and Releasing Fish in this book.

The information is all that a carver needs to make a replica of the catch you made and the fish is available to be caught by another lucky angler.

ERL. Energy Maine Hydro L.L.C. presents, as a public service, "The H2O Flow Hotline", which provides daily information on water releases from 11 dams on the Kennebec and Androscoggin watersheds. Interested parties can call 1-800-557FLOW from any touch-tone phone and follow the pre-recorded prompts. Information on releases from the following dams is available:

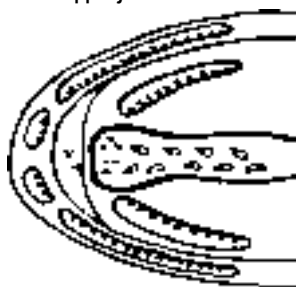

- Harris, Flagstaff, Williams, East and West Outlets, Brassua, and Roach Dams on the Kennebec watershed;
- Aziscohos, Errol, and Middle and Upper Dams on the Androscoggin watershed.

The recording is updated each evening at 6:00 PM with information for the following day and at 9:00 a.m. for the current day, however, the flows provided are considered estimates and can change at any time. F.P.L.E. urges people who fish and paddle below dams to exercise extreme caution, as water levels can rise or fall rapidly without notice.

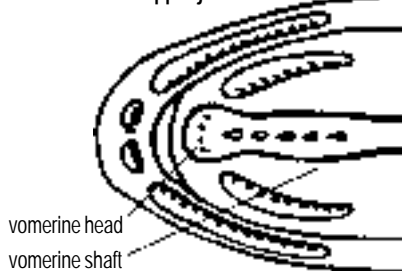

IDENTIFICATION OF SALMON AND BROWN TROUT

The most obvious difference between salmon and brown trout may be found in the head and tail areas. Knowing them may help the angler release a fish more quickly when certain creel and size restrictions apply. On salmon, the vomerine teeth are small and arranged in single row on shaft, few to none on vomerine head. On the Brown Trout, the vomerine teeth are well-developed on both vomerine head and shaft, arranged in a zig-zag row on shaft. On salmon, the caudal fin may be slightly forked and on the brown trout, the caudal fin is square and unforked.

SALT WATER FISHING INFORMATION

The following information is applicable to all the waters of the State within the rise and fall of the tide and within the marine limits of the State, but not including areas above any fishway or dam when the fishway or dam is the dividing line between tidewater and freshwater.

The DEPARTMENT OF MARINE RESOURCES (DMR) is the State agency that is established to conserve and develop marine and estuarine resources. The Bureau of Resource Management promotes and develops recreational and commercial saltwater fisheries through research, technical assistance, and the collection of statistics. The Bureau of Marine Patrol enforces laws and regulations pertaining to saltwater recreational and commercial fishing activities as well as Maine's boat laws, including operation, registration and safety requirements. For information, contact the DMR at: 21 SHS, Augusta, Maine 04333-0021; telephone: (207) 624-6550.

RECREATIONAL FISHING LICENSE INFORMATION

- Saltwater angling licenses are not required for recreational saltwater angling. A commercial license is required when any marine species is sold and when more than the recreational bag limits are in possession of the angler. Selling fish without a commercial permit is prohibited. There are regulations covering size, bag limits, possession limits and methods of fishing for, but not limited to the following species: Atlantic Salmon, Atlantic Bluefin Tuna, Sturgeon, Striped Bass, Bluefish, Cod, Haddock, Halibut, Pollack, Redfish, Smelt, Winter/ Summer Flounder, Sharks. Current saltwater fishing information can be obtained by contacting the Recreational Marine Fisheries Program, Maine DMR, PO Box 8, West Boothbay Harbor, ME 04575. Telephone: (207) 633-9500.
- Freshwater fish (brown trout, black bass-largemouth and smallmouth, black crappie, rainbow trout, chain pickerel, and landlocked salmon) regulations in coastal waters. All rules governing methods of taking, size, bag, and possession limits conform with the general law open water fishing regulations found in this book, except that the minimum length limit on brown trout and rainbow trout in coastal waters is 14 inches. It is unlawful to fish for or take freshwater fish by any means other than hook and line. It is unlawful to snag freshwater fish.
- Atlantic Salmon The angling season for Atlantic salmon in Maine is CLOSED YEAR ROUND until further notice. It is unlawful, by State of Maine mandate, to angle, take or possess any Atlantic salmon from all Maine waters (including coastal waters). Atlantic Salmon are regulated by the Atlantic Salmon Commission, 650 State Street, Bangor Mental Health Facility, Bangor, ME 04401; (207) 941-4449. Information regarding Atlantic salmon can be obtained directly from the Commission.
- Atlantic Bluefin Tuna are regulated by the Federal Government. Permit information can be obtained from the National Marine Fisheries Service, Atlantic Tuna Program, Northeast Regional Office, 1 Blackburn Drive, Gloucester, MA 01930-2298; Phone: 888-872-8862.
- Sturgeon: It is unlawful to take, catch, possess, or destroy any shortnose or Atlantic sturgeon from the coastal waters of Maine.
- Striped Bass: Maine's striped bass regulations cover all Maine coastal waters up to the head of tide in all rivers. In addition, there are special regulations in effect on some rivers. Contact the Department of Marine Resources for current size restrictions, season dates, and bag limits. Gear restrictions: Gear is restricted to hook and line only. Use of a gaff to land a striped bass is illegal.

FISH CONSUMPTION ADVISORY

The Maine Department of Health and Human Services(DHHS), Bureau of Public Health has issued a health advisory for two saltwater species: striped bass and bluefish. Due to the presence of PCBs and Mercury, consumption of striped bass and bluefish should be limited as follows:

Public Health Advisory:

Warning: Chemicals in some Maine saltwater fish may harm people who eat them. Women who are or may become pregnant and children should carefully follow the Safe Eating Guidelines. DHHS, Bureau of Public Health has issued a health advisory for several saltwater species. It's hard to believe that fish that look, smell, and taste fine may not be safe to eat. But the truth is that some saltwater fish have mercury, PCBs and Dioxins in them. All these chemicals settle into the ocean from the air. PCBs and Dioxins also flow into the ocean through our rivers. These chemicals then build up in fish. Small amounts of mercury can damage a brain starting to form or grow. That's why babies in the womb, nursing babies, and young children are at most risk. Mercury can also harm older children and adults, but it takes larger amounts. PCBs and Dioxins can cause cancer and other health problems if too much build up in your body. Due to the possible presence of these chemicals, DHHS, Bureau of Public Health asks that all consumers of the following saltwater species adhere to the following safe eating guidelines.

Safe Eating Guidelines

- Striped Bass and Bluefish: Eat no more than 2 meals per month.
- Shark, Swordfish, King Mackerel, and Tilefish: Pregnant and nursing women, women who may get pregnant and children under 8 years of age are advised to not eat any swordfish or shark. All other individuals should eat no more than 2 meals per month.
- All other ocean fish and shellfish, including canned fish and shellfish: Pregnant and nursing women, women who may get pregnant and children under 8 years of age should eat no more than 2 meals per week.

Anyone wanting further information concerning fish consumption advisories should contact DHHS, Bureau of Public Health directly at (866) 292-3474 or at (207) 287-8141.

TIPS FOR CATCHING AND RELEASING FISH

By carefully following these simple instructions, you can release your fish unharmed. If you enjoyed catching your fish, so will the next angler!

- 1. Time is of the essence. Play and release the fish as quickly and carefully as possible. An exhausted fish may be too weak to recover.
- 2. IMPORTANT: Keep the fish in the water if it is not going to be part of your daily bag limit. A fish out of water is not only suffocating, but may be subject to a “quick freeze.”
- 3. Be gentle. Keep your fingers away from the gills. Don't squeeze the fish.
- 4. Remove the hook with small pliers or a similar type tool —
If the hook is deeply embedded or in a sensitive area such as the gills or stomach, cut the leader close to the snout. Make an effort to use regular steel (bronzed) hooks to promote early disintegration. Do not use stainless or gold-plated hooks.
- 5. To revive a fish once it is back in the water, hold it in a swimming position in the water and move it gently back and forth until it is able to swim away.
- 6. Lake trout (togue) often have expanded air bladders after being pulled up rapidly from deep water. If the belly appears expanded, release the fish from the hook first, then gently press your thumb along the stomach near the paired belly fins and move it forward a few times to remove air from the bladder. Finally, proceed to revive and free the fish.

MAINE ATLANTIC SALMON COMMISSION

The Maine Atlantic Salmon Commission (ASC) is the lead agency charged with the management of Anadromous (sea run) Atlantic salmon. Its mission is to:

"Protect, preserve, enhance, restore, and manage the Atlantic salmon and its habitat; to secure a sustainable recreational fishery in the State; and to conduct and coordinate all projects involving research, planning, management, restoration, or propagation of the Atlantic salmon".

It is unlawful to angle for, take, or possess anadromous Atlantic salmon from all Maine waters (including all coastal waters). If an Atlantic salmon is incidentally hooked it should not be removed from the water, and it should be released immediately.

For updates and more information on the Atlantic Salmon Commission please go to our web page: <http://www.maine.gov/asc>

Anglers do your part to know an Atlantic salmon parr from a brook trout.

Recreational Anglers

Is that a brook trout? Look again!

Brook trout fishermen mistakenly take many Atlantic salmon parr each year. Please do your part to protect Maine's endangered Atlantic salmon by taking the time to understand the difference between each fish.

Color is variable, depending on habitat. Parr have 8 to 11 pigmented bars, or "parr marks," along each side of their body, alternating with a single row of red spots along the lateral line.

Eastern Brook Trout

Color is variable, depending on habitat. Brook trout can be distinguished from other members of the trout family by the dark, wavy, worm-like line on their back and the white leading edges of their fins, including the tail.

DIF&W BOAT ACCESS PROGRAM

The Department of Inland Fisheries & Wildlife works to assure that you will always have a legal and safe way to access and use the water and fishery resources of Maine. If you know of an access need or a solution to one, please contact the Regional Fishery Biologist located in your area.

The Department's Boat Access Program is all about supporting fishery management initiatives and providing opportunities for all citizens to enjoy Maine's waters and fisheries. The continuation of fishery stocking programs and the permanent preservation of citizens rights of access can only be accomplished by acquiring property and developing access facilities, such as launching and parking areas.

The Fisheries Division staff evaluate and prioritize water access needs based upon the fishery management goals for waters within each administrative region. Waters without public access are not stocked. Whenever the lack of public access to a great pond prevents the investment of public money and the implementation of a desired fish management (stocking) program, or whenever the loss (or restriction) of public access to a public water threatens the termination of a fishery management (or stocking) program, continuing public access is a high priority. The Department's boat access program is focused on addressing these priority access needs.

We will fail in our stewardship responsibilities if we do not pass along both the natural resources AND the opportunities for our citizens to use these resources.

The Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Act of 1950, commonly known as the Dingell-Johnson (DJ) Act established a "User Pay/User Benefit" philosophy for funding State sport fish restoration and conservation efforts. These funds have played a vital role in the management of Maine's sport fish resources since they were first used in 1950 to enhance the Department's sport fish management capabilities. Revenues are collected by the federal government from excise taxes on fishing equipment, electric motors and sonar, pleasure boats and yachts, and from motorboat fuel taxes.

These revenues are apportioned back to the States annually and support a wide array of projects in Maine which include: fishery population assessments, long-range species management planning, development of management recommendations, implementation of management programs, acquisition and development and management of water access sites.

MAINE BOATING LAW HIGHLIGHTS

- A person may not operate a motorboat or personal watercraft on the inland waters of the state unless a Lake & River Protection Sticker is affixed to both sides of the watercraft. The fee is $10 for boats registered in Maine, and $20 for boats registered outside Maine.
- Any watercraft equipped with machinery of any horsepower must be registered, including sailboats, canoes, dinghies and rowboats. The OPERATOR must have the valid registration certificate on board and available for inspection at all times the boat is in operation. NOTE: Before a boat can be registered, the owner must (1) submit proof that the excise tax has been paid to their town tax collector or that the boat is tax exempt, and (2) pay sales tax or use tax on all boats purchased from another person (casual sale). Assigned registration numbers, stickers and excise tax decals must be displayed on both sides of the bow of the boat, in that order.
- Boats validly registered in other states having a federally approved law can operate, for a period of 60 consecutive days, without licensing in Maine.
- An operator of a boat of more than 10 horsepower must be at least 12 years of age unless under the immediate supervision of a person at least 16 years of age.
- Children 10 years of age or under are required to WEAR a Type I, II or III PFD in all watercraft.
- Craft less than 16 feet and all canoes and kayaks regardless of length, must carry at least 1 Coast Guard approved personal flotation device (PFD), Types I, II, or III (wearable), for each person aboard. Watercraft 16 feet or longer must carry the above PLUS 1 Type IV (throwable) device immediately available in craft. See Maine Boat Law for requirements for carrying passengers for hire or other commercial purposes.
- Boating accidents involving personal injury, death or property damage estimated at $1000 or more must be reported to a law enforcement agency by the quickest means possible.
- Prudent and reasonable speed is required at all times; operation to endanger persons or property, in a reckless manner, or under the influence of alcohol or drugs, is prohibited. It is unlawful to engage in prolonged circling, informal racing, wake jumping, or other types of continued and repeated activities that harass another person. This subsection may be enforced by any law enforcement officer or a person may bring a private nuisance action for a violation of this subsection pursuant to Title 17 Section 2802.
- Watercraft operating between sunset and sunrise must display lights and carry such other safety equipment required by federal and state law.

For a copy of the Federally approved Maine Boating Law, contact the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, 284 State St., 41 SHS, Augusta, ME 04333-0041 phone: (207) 287-8000.

WATER SAFETY ZONE AND HEADWAY SPEED: Watercraft MAY NOT be operated at greater than headway speed (speed necessary to maintain steerage and control) within the water safety zone (that area within 200 feet of the shoreline, whether the shoreline of the mainland or of an island) or within a marina or an approved anchorage in coastal or inland waters, except while actively fishing.

Maine has a tough OUI (operating under the influence) provision in its boating law.

ACCESS RIGHTS TO PUBLIC WATERS

Although there are public rights of access to great ponds (natural lakes of 10 acres or more), most great ponds are encircled by private lands. People generally have the right to cross undeveloped land to get to a great pond, but do not have the right to fish from the shore. Similarly, the public does not have legal rights to use river banks for fishing, except from the custom of permissive access.

Since private landowners own approximately 94% of Maine's land area, the future of much of Maine's public recreation depends on our relationship with private landowners now. The Landowner Relations Program within the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife works on increasing and enhancing access to private property. Without that access, outdoor recreational opportunities would be quite limited.

Even though permission to access unposted land is not required by law, "Asking First" is the right thing to do. We are finding through conversations with hundreds of landowners across the State, that all landowners want is to be asked for access to their land and thanked for its use. Access to private land can be lost because of the abuse and disrespect shown by a few towards the landowner and their land. The sporting public needs to help landowners in any way possible. Pick up trash left behind by someone else; correct the person that is doing something wrong; and most importantly, convey to the landowner how much you appreciate being able to use "their" land.

The Landowner Relations Program is funded by the proceeds of the Supersport License sales. Become a supporter of preserving access for now and future generations. Any license may be upgraded to a supersport at any time.

LOONS & LEAD DON'T MIX

Lead tackle is deadly to waterbirds!

Lead sinkers and jigs cause fatal lead poisoning in loons and other waterfowl. Lead ingestion is the #1 killer of loons in Maine, but any waterbird can die from swallowing just one lead sinker or jig!

YOU CAN:

Use steel, tin, bismuth or plastic instead. Ask local tackle shops to stock alternatives. Properly dispose of old lead sinkers & jigs.

Trouble by the Bucketful

That's what the illegal introduction of exotic species brings to Maine's waters.

Some thoughtless individuals are attempting to destroy the future of Maine's native fisheries. These non-sportsmen illegally stock the type of fish they prefer to catch, without regard for the environmental havoc they inflict on the resource. Illegal stocking selfishly denies the people of Maine the right to decide what is best for our waters.

Please help fight this serious problem.

- It is illegal to transport live fish without a permit.
- It is illegal to dump unused baitfish into any waterway.
- There is a $10,000 fine for a conviction of illegal stocking.
- Always keep your ears and eyes open for those who are committing these senseless acts.
